People Tell the Story Of the School Year

FALL

The end of summer brings the beginning of the new school year at Oak Hills. Even before the actual opening of school, Highlanders are busy laying the ground-work to make 1967-68 the most successful year yet. The football team is out early on August mornings building the stamina and cooperation a winning team needs. The band, majorettes, Oakettes, and cheerleaders practice long and hard, while Student Council members work inside assembling the student handbook, designed to introduce the freshmen to Oak Hills. As classes resume, returning Oak Hills students have the opportunity to bring to the classroom the same enthusiasm and interest.

1967 Highlander Gridmen

The Highlander football team brings to the 1967 season great team spirit and the long hours of practice which back it up. The success of the 8 1-1- season is marked by many outstanding performances on both an individual and team basis and several new records. With 89 points scored, Chuck Walroth, named this year's Most Valuable player, now holds the school record for most points scored in one season, as well as in rushing, total offense, pass interceptions, and punt returns. Co-captain Ken Hummel wins the team's "Iron Man" award, while Dave Hewitt is awarded "Best Lineman," Greg Huff is "Best Back," and Gerry Lane is named most improved. Chuck Walroth, Ken Hummel, and Ken Helton are members of the all-league team and Ken Helton is named to WCPO's first team and Chuck Walroth to the second. But every member of the team is a valuable asset as Oak Hills finishes another successful season.

YOUTHFUL EVENTS — NEW

From cowgirl and Indian to "Queen of the Continent" Homecoming 1968 brings unequalled enthusiasm and participation by every Highlander. Oak Hills' first "Pep Week" adds to the excitement of constructing class floats and voting for our seventh Homecoming queen. From Monday's red and black competition to Friday's sweat shirts, Highlanders exhibit a growing school spirit which climaxes in a 30-14 victory over Anderson. It is the seniors' night to shine as Dana Miller is crowned and the seniors' float, "Keep America Beautiful — Can the Redskins" takes first place honors. The evening is highlighted by Dana's reign as "Queen of the Continent" at the gala Homecoming dance.

It's Fall, and School Activities Are in

In chilly autumn days school activities come to exciting and eventful life. Classroom routine is established and the real business of education begun. Students retain the enthusiasm of the beginning of the year and apply it to many special activities. School organizations, from Honor Society to Pep Club or Dramatics, are well under way to a successful year's program. But among all these activities, a quiet conversation often highlights the rush between classes. Fall is an exciting season, preview of even better things to come.

Individual runners Steve Sauer, Gary Kurtz and Greg Martz place second, third and fourth in the county respectively. With the expert coaching of Mr. Robert Yung, the team once more carry long hours of practice stretching back through the summer months to competition, and emerge as the victors, Highlanders to be proud of.

The Tartan

Sixteen times a year Oak Hills students produce The Tartan, a record of people and events as they occur. With the guidance of advisor Mr. Eugene Wagner, the staff works long and hard to make The Tartan a newspaper every Highlander can be proud of. In order to learn more about journalism, as well as to demonstrate the facility they already have, seven Tartan editors and staff attended the convention of the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools at Ohio State University, where Oak Hills journalists were awarded four second place and two third place honors in writing competitions. The workshop sponsored by the Miami Valley Journalism Association at Miami University in the spring is another opportunity to polish journalistic skills, which from September to June keep Oak Hills students informed about what's going on at their school.

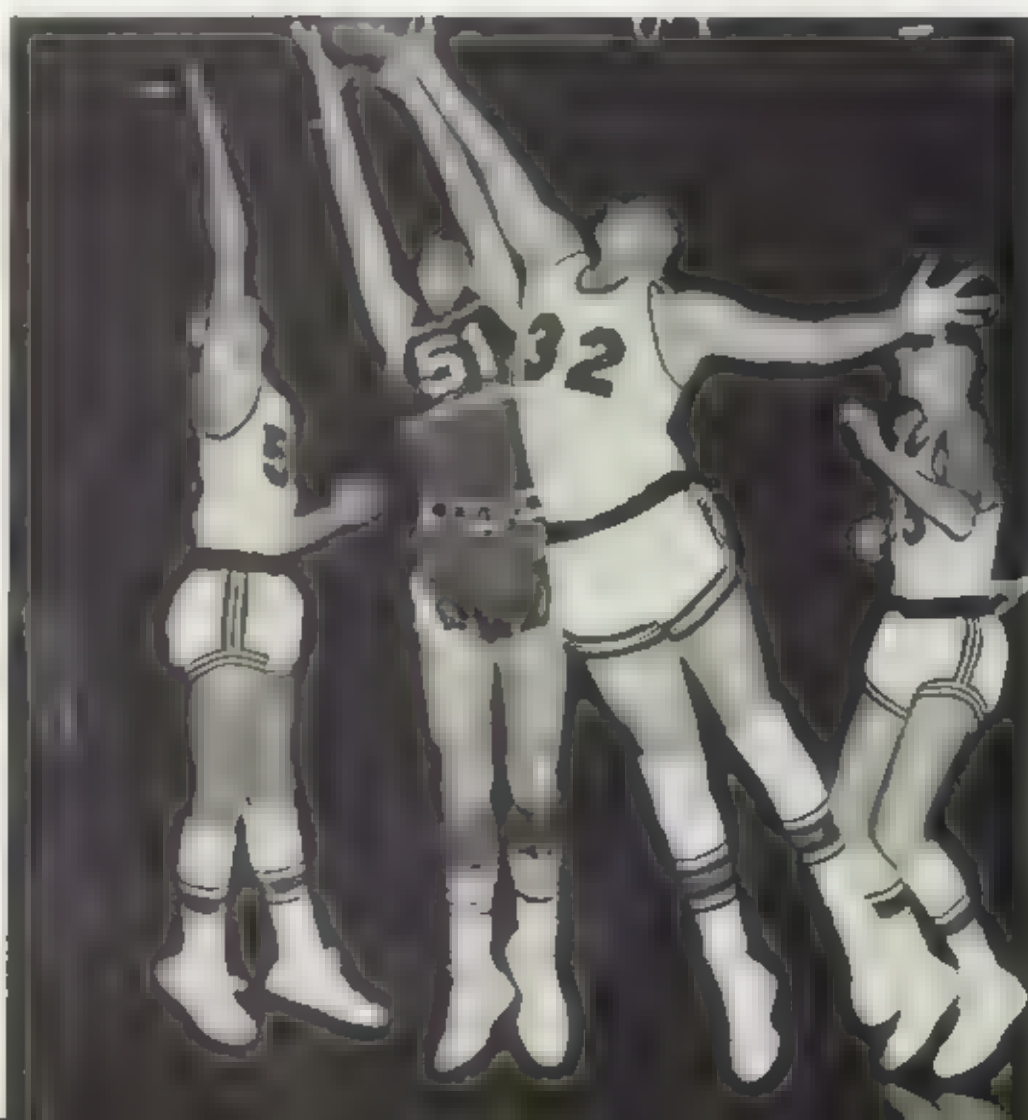

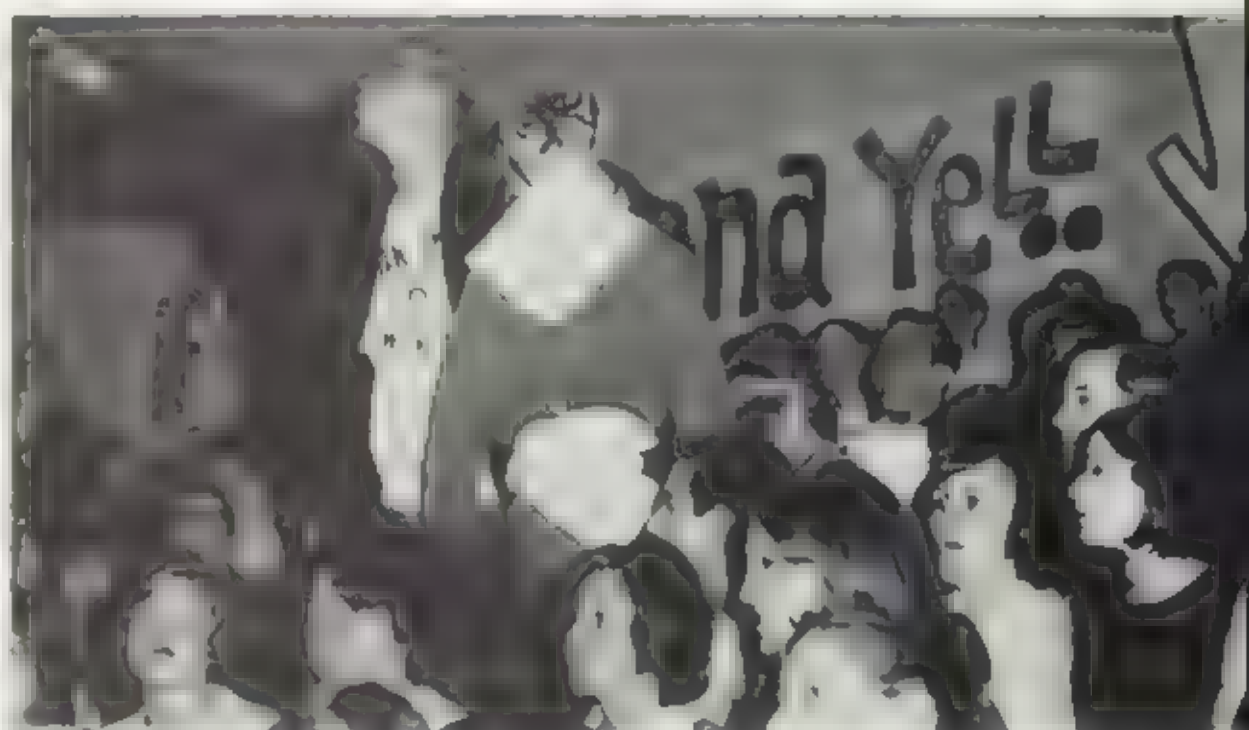

Tartan days begin with advisor Mr. Eugene Wagner and editor Keri Burriss

Winter

Winter 1968 style means a hard-won basketball championship, the tension of exam week, snowballs, saddle shoes, and Bonnie and Clyde. It is a season of extremes in weather and mood. School activities expand to include swimming and wrestling competition, as well as the weekly basketball games. But sports do not monopolize winter events. In mid-January the drama department offers an evening of one-act plays and the semi-formal Sweetheart dance highlights February Exams present a different type of involvement on the part of Oak Hills students. The long hours of study and tension are not soon forgotten but the spread of the "saddle shoe conspiracy" offers some lighter moments. It is a busy season in an eventful year.

Christmas Strikes!

Christmas is heralded at Oak Hills by the strains of organ music from the lobby and the colorful decoration of the front windows extending seasons' greetings to the entire community. In 1967 this always special time of year was enhanced by a unique program of dual assemblies presented by the music department, with selections ranging from traditional carols to Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus." Away from school, a quiet moment under the mistletoe, the fun of decorating the house or a carolling trip to friends and neighbors, all are part of the spirit of Christmas at Oak Hills.

Contentment

An important part of the social life for many Oak Hills students is the fun of a weekend date with that particular person or group. Activities range from simple and casual to basketball games or even a quiet evening at home to the special thrill of dancing to the music of the New Line at a King Football Dance. But whatever they do, wherever they go, the happy young boy and girl make a winning pair.

Cheerleaders Build Highlander Spirit

Excitement and participation is the job of the three Oak Hills cheerleading squads. The seven varsity cheerleaders, distinctive in their new red jackets, have a prominent place at all varsity football and basketball games and pep rallies. The reserves responsibility is cheering at the reserve games, while the freshman cheerleaders direct their energies to the freshman sports teams. The cheerleaders are an important group at Oak Hills, helping to forge the spirit and purpose which makes a successful school as well as a successful team.

Oak Hills Band Sounds Off

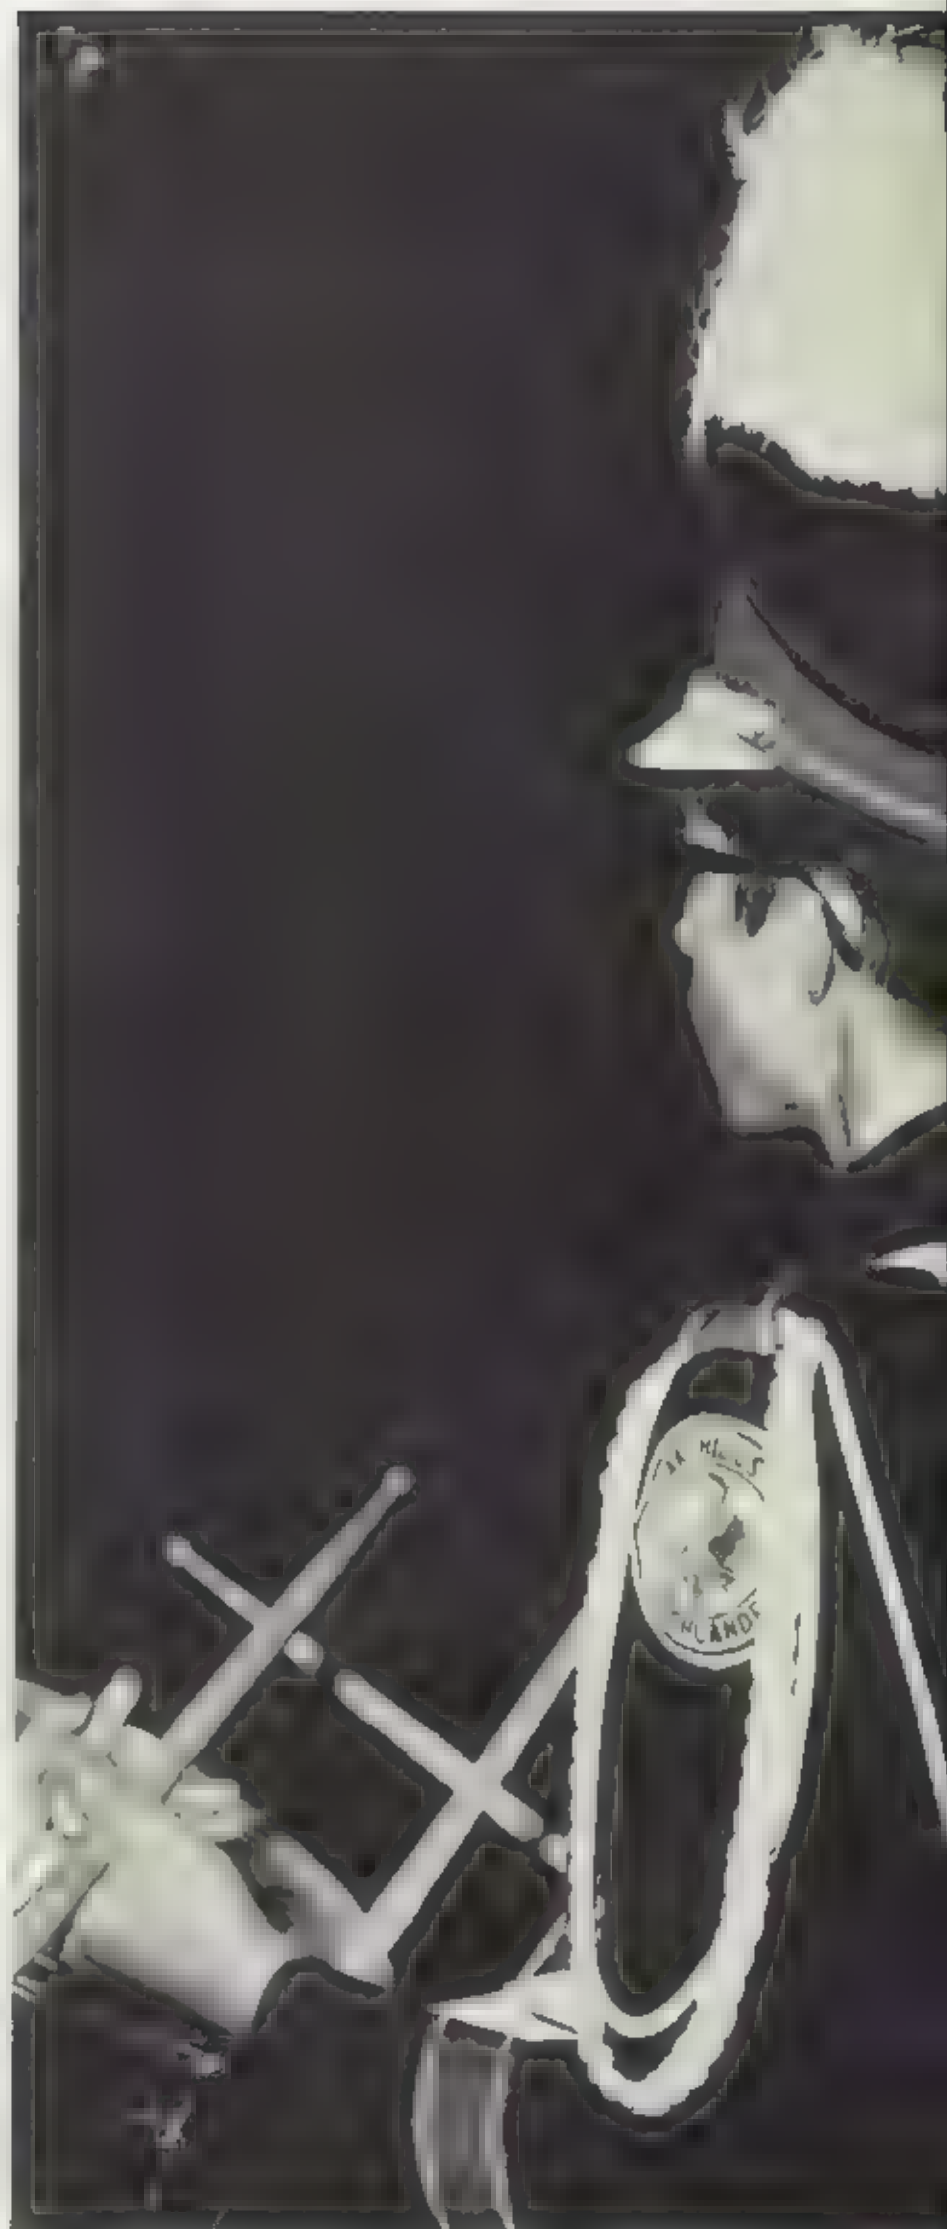

Whether marching at football games or performing in concert, the Oak Hills Band offers those Highlanders with an interest in instrumental music a chance to polish their skill under the direction of Mr. Thomas Tate and Mr. Richard Davis. This year the band represents Oak Hills well as it marches in the Harvest Home, Veteran's Day, and St. Patrick's Day parades, as well as presenting spectacular half-time shows at all football games. The Pep Band and Dance Band are formed for special functions during the year, helping to keep the Oak Hills band in its always prominent position in school life.

Majorettes Introduce Band

Smartly dressed majorettes lead the Oak Hills band and entertain spectators at football and basketball games. Besides participating in marching band events, the majorettes perform in The Best of Oak Hills. To attain excellence, the majorettes begin practice during the summer and meet every week throughout the year. Head Majorette Linda Schmidt represents Oak Hills this year in the Shrine Circus Queen competition and does most of the choreography for the girls.

Wrestlers Finish 2nd in County 3rd in District

Wrestling, one of the newer sports at Oak Hills, finishes another successful season this year with a 13-3 varsity record and a 9-3 reserve record. This places the varsity team from Oak Hills second in the county and third in the district. Dick Loewenstine holds a district championship in his class, and is joined by Highlanders Mike Fiorini and Mike May in claiming league championship, marking 1968 the best season yet for the mighty matmen of Oak Hills.

Meeting weekly, Student Council functions as a valuable link between students and administration. Taking a place of leadership in many areas, Council plans the Homecoming festivities which highlight the fall, as well as organizing the greatly successful "Bundle Days," collecting clothing for Appalachian children. "Jerry's Day" is an innovation in 1968. Working as waitresses, cooks, or dishwashers for one of two days in April, Council members are able to earn money for their organization. A.F.S.

A.F.S. American Field Service, is designed to encourage activities involving foreign students and Oak Hills, this year introducing Tony Martinez to our school and city. Money making projects and the annual "Pledge Day" are aimed at financing a foreign student at Oak Hills again next year, and, if possible, sending a Highlander abroad.

A.F.S. officers include Debbie Douglas (pres.), Mary Steinkoenig (V. pres.), and Pat Taeuber (sec.).

Other leaders are Barb Behrens (treas.) and Miss Slafer (adv.).

Pat Taeuber spent the summer in Germany as the American daughter to two families.

Spring

With spring comes an explosion of activity at Oak Hills. Track meets and baseball games mark the return to outdoor sports, while the choir and band concert exhibits the achievements of these two groups. For many the Prom, a magic trip back to the days of King Arthur's Round Table and Camelot," is the climax of much work and the fulfillment of many expectations. In early May the Best of Oak Hills offers talented students a chance to perform, this year in a production with a gay circus theme. For seniors spring brings the culmination of four years of hard work and the special majesty of the graduation ceremony. But, for all, spring is a time of the year filled with excitement and activity, the fulfillment of long held dreams and a new look to the future

Thespians and Thalian Join Talents

Thespian president Barb Smith

The Thespian and Thalian organizations of Oak Hills combine to form the Dramatics Club offering any Highlander interested in stagecraft an opportunity to polish his skill. Whether participating as actor, stage crew member, or in the business end of a dramatic presentation, Dramatics Club members help make Peter Pan, an evening of three one-act plays, and the comedy Charley's Aunt memorable events. They bring honor to Oak Hills through their showing in speech and play competitions throughout Ohio.

Four Choirs Bolster Music Department

The vocal music department at Oak Hills expands again this year to include four separate performing groups, all under the direction of Mr. Robert Schierloh. The newly formed Concert Choir and Freshman Mixed Glee Club join the Mixed Chorus and Girl's Glee Club for Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Bridge Club is led by pres. Jo Kouach and adv. Mr. Jennings.

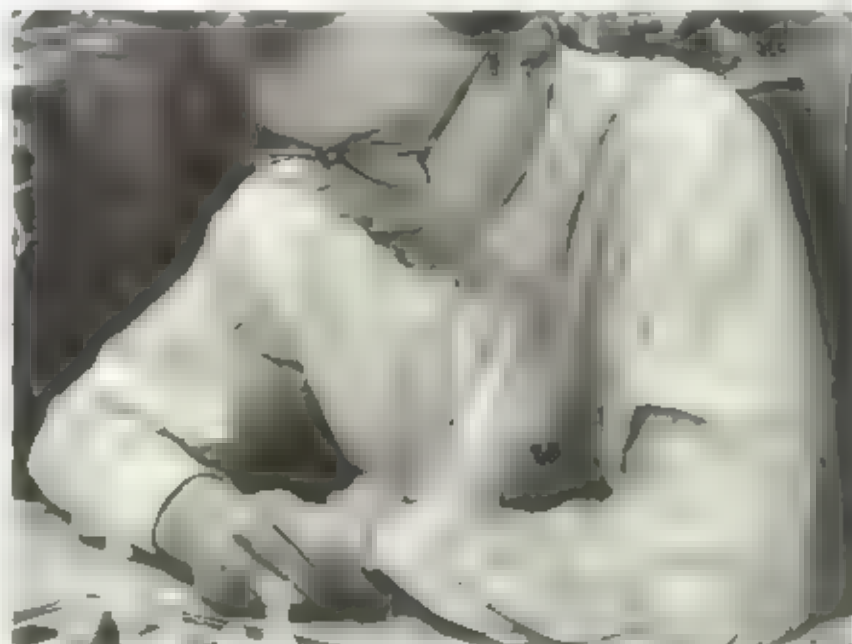

Chess club officers are: Jim Hottkamp, pres., Dennis Rose, V. pres., and Jerry Krallier, sec.-tres. Adv. is Mr. Rosenfeld.

Chess Club

As a member of the Greater Cincinnati Chess League, the Oak Hills Chess Club participates in bi-weekly five man chess meets with other high school teams. Often ranking high in the league standings, the team also frequently competes in invitational tournaments apart from regular league play and sponsors its own individual tournament each spring.

Bridge Club

Another organization new to Oak Hills this year is aimed at Highlanders interested in the exciting game of bridge. Members meet regularly with sponsor Mr. Lloyd Jennings to practice and increase their playing skills and techniques. Although the membership is small, Bridge Club offers its members valuable experience in their special field of interest.

Art club is led by Mary Lou Morris, pres., Sarah Shackelford, V. pres., Janice White, sec. tres., and Mrs. Stark, adv.

Art Club

The special decorations which appear in the lobby and windows of Oak Hills every Christmas are evidence of the activities of Art Club, one of the special interest organizations at Oak Hills. These Highlanders also sponsor a canteen and an art sale to provide a scholarship for an Oak Hills senior planning to make a career in art.

Tartan Day '68

On April 5 the halls of Oak Hills are altered by a combination of whimsy and hard work to illustrate some phase of the Highlander life or heritage. These decorations, this year paced by the senior's winning "Chapter 1968," are only part of Tartan Day, whose traditional purpose has been to build school spirit. Loyal lads and lassies wear the plaid proudly, and, as always, the day is climaxed with the evening's election of a very special 'Lad and Lassie.'

Lassie candidates are Cindy Brigham, Laurie Wolfe, Shari McCollister, Linda Schmidt, Diane Schroeder, and Kim Burress. Lad candidates are Bob Garrison, George Engel, Doug Davenport, Rich Drewes, Bob Fricker, and Fred Hess.

1967 Track

The 1967 team of Highlander thinclads finished their season with a good record, including a third place in the County Relays and a fourth in the County Meet. With the leadership of 1967's Outstanding Trackman, Tom Williams, runner in the 220 yard hurdles, the Highlanders racked up victories over such teams as Finneytown and Mt. Healthy, aided by other senior racers Bruce Nead and Ron Lanham.

The 1968 Highlander track team adds another fine season to the Oak Hills records. A first place in the county relays and victories over Colerain and Xavier are examples of the winning ways of this year's trackmen. New school records are set by pole vaulter Gordon Roberts and by Dave Bryan, Roger Bernard, Bob Fricker, and Fred Hess in the 440 yard relays. Other outstanding runners include Ken Schmidthorst, Gary Kurtz, and Bill Nead, but every member of the team exhibits the enthusiasm and energy necessary to end the season with such a record

GAA '68 Season

The girls in G.A.A. are kept busy during the year participating in the eleven different sports which are offered. In order to earn her yearly award, a girl must get credit in at least six sports and earn twenty extra points by attendance, working at a G.A.A. sponsored dance or canteen, selling candy or programs at the varsity games, playing on one of the honor teams which compete with other schools, or in one of the many other activities of this energetic organization

The 1968 tennis team emerged much improved, with a record to be proud of. With a core of seniors, Dan Swart, Bob Grauvogel, Dave Herche and Bob Garrison. Coach John Muth achieved many successes in this highly individualized sport. Best doubles record is claimed by Dan Swart and Scott Hunter, a junior new to the team this year. Most valuable player is Bob Garrison, holder of the best singles record. Although tennis is not a sport well known to most Highlanders, these boys work hard to bring back a good record for their school!

1968 Team Captures First Trophy

Golf plays an important part in the spring sports picture at Oak Hills. The 1967 team placed fourth in the district with a 7-7 overall record, 4-3 in league matches. Junior Greg Morris paced the team, holding the record low score for eighteen holes, 79. In the district tournament he took fourth medalist honors.

The 1968 golf team shows their skill and experience in challenging matches with Colerain, Western Hills, and Wyoming. Their overall record stands as 11-2 in dual meets, giving them the league championship in the western division. This year's low score is the 77 shot by Howie Lowe in the district tournament.

Honor Society

Character, Leadership, Scholarship and Service are the four qualities required of a member of National Honor Society. Members participate not only in this organization, accumulating points through tutoring, selling candy to raise money for a scholarship, and other projects, but are also leaders in many school activities. In order to be inducted into National Honor Society members must have a cumulative "B average Honor Society officers are: George Engel, pres.; Barb Behrens, sec.; Debbie Douglas, V. pres.; and Rich Drewes, tres. Executive committee includes Pat Taeuber, Linda Schmidt, Mary Steinkoenig, and Doug Davenport.

Circus Brings Show —

Stoppers to OH"

Clowns and caliope music mean the circus has arrived, and this year its destination is the Oak Hills stage, as the 1968 edition of "The Best of Oak Hills gets underway with the traditional circus parade. Comical, dancing "Monkees," the varsity cheerleaders in disguise, are only a part of the laughter and thrills of this "Greatest Show on Earth." High-stepping Oakettes, the majorettes and their guys, and Joy Robertson on the flying trapeze perform on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the first week in May. Jo Lynne Warfield and Sally Blankenship, and Bruce Adler are among those who show the more thoughtful side of the circus. A circus is always a very special, magical event, and the 1968 "Best" truly succeeded in evoking the circus atmosphere.

Red Cross Club is led by pres. Bill Freppon, V-pres. Donna Grey, sec. Claudia Fischer, and advs. Miss Smith and Mrs. Jenkins

Red Cross and Health Careers Clubs

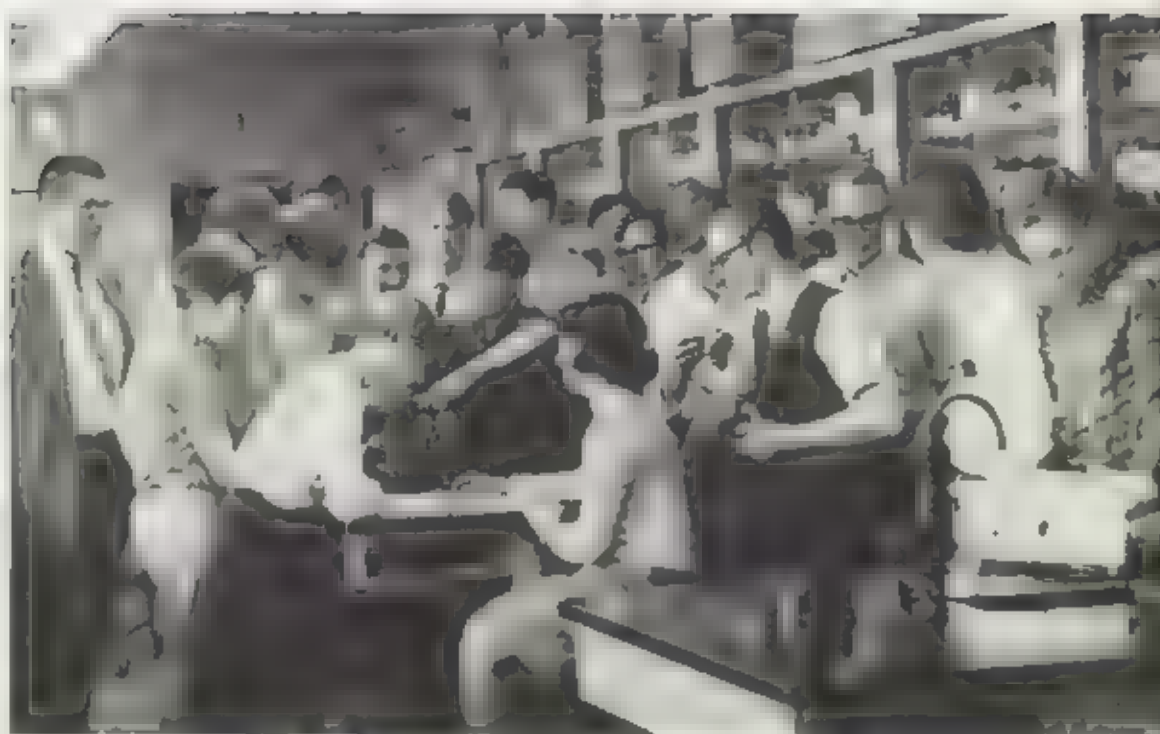

Health Careers Club officers are: Mary Ann Hass, pres., Jill Newman, V-pres., Kay Kitz, sec., Mary Jo Walsh, tres., and Mrs. Roberts, adv.

The Red Cross and Health Careers Clubs of Oak Hills are related organizations, each with an accent on service. An interested student from each homeroom is elected to serve as a member of the Red Cross organization, which sponsors an annual collection for this worthy cause, and also sponsors a canteen to aid in its work. Highlanders whose interest lies in the medical field form the Health Careers Club, who this year are selling candles and note paper to finance the scholarship they award annually.

Audio-Visual Aids

Members of the Audio Visual Aids Club work closely with many teachers, as well as with their advisor, Mr. Bernard Hiles, in helping to co-ordinate the audio-visual program at Oak Hills. All are trained in the use of the movie projectors and other teaching aids, serving as valuable assistants in many classrooms.

Boys Bowling Team

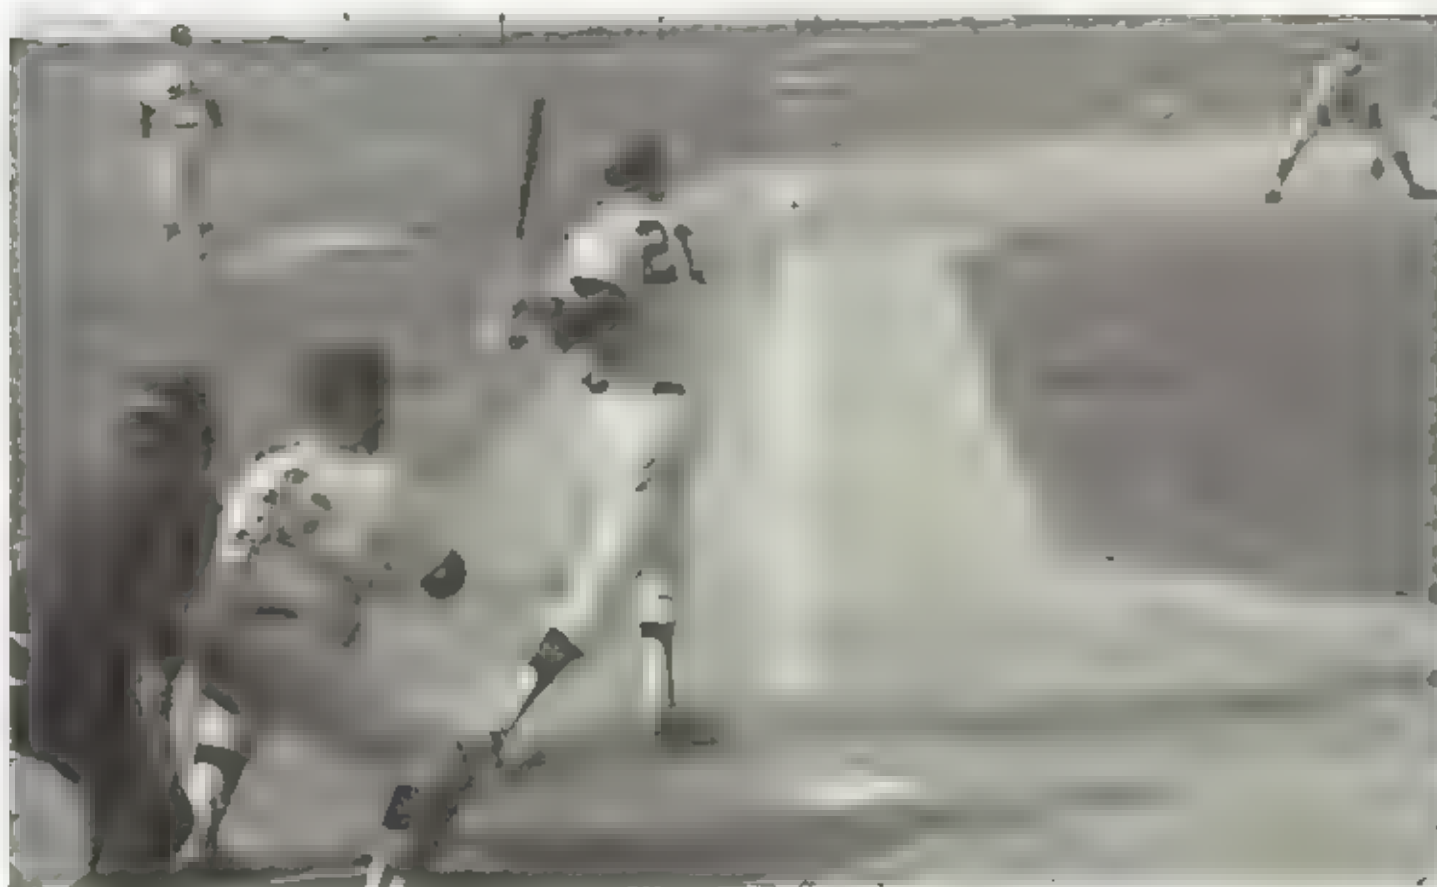

The Oak Hills Boys' Bowling League competes in separate teams against each other weekly. Trophies go to the top teams and for high games, as well as patches from the Youth Bowling Association. This year's winning team consists of Bruce Adler, Mike Genet, and Butch Knepp. Bruce Adler also holds the award for high average, while Frank Lowe ranks with high series.

335 Graduate in Outside Ceremonies

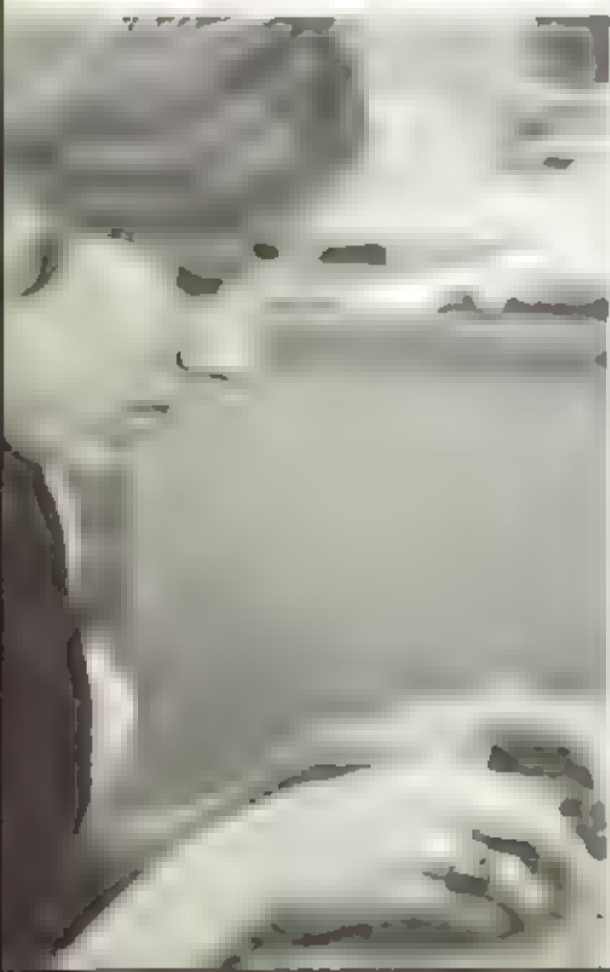

Graduation. It means something different but always very special, to everyone. For the Oak Hills graduating class of 1968 it means commencement exercises held outdoors on a beautiful June night and 335 Highlanders receiving their diplomas one by one. Accepting your diploma you realize that not only has something ended, but you are beginning life anew. Now you meet the challenges and receive the rewards as adults. The four years spent at Oak Hills, nearly a quarter of your life is over, but never forgotten

Mixed emotions are felt at commencement

SENIORS

The class of 1968 approaches graduation with unequalled achievement in every phase of school life. Its winning ways are evidenced by a record four consecutive first-place awards in the Tartan Day Hall Competition and first-place floats for the 1966 and 1967 Homecomings. The 1967 Prom is an other milestone in the history of the class of '68. Months of planning and hard work climaxed in "Maestas Romae," a memorable and beautiful evening. Members of the class always enrich Oak Hills in other ways, participating in its champion sports teams and as leaders in any and every school event or organization. In many ways throughout their four years at Oak Hills, seniors have contributed to school spirit and enthusiasm. But more than this, seniors have developed the valuable skills which enable them to face with confidence the prospects of the future.

Gregg Kramer — Pres dent

Diane Mattis — Vice President

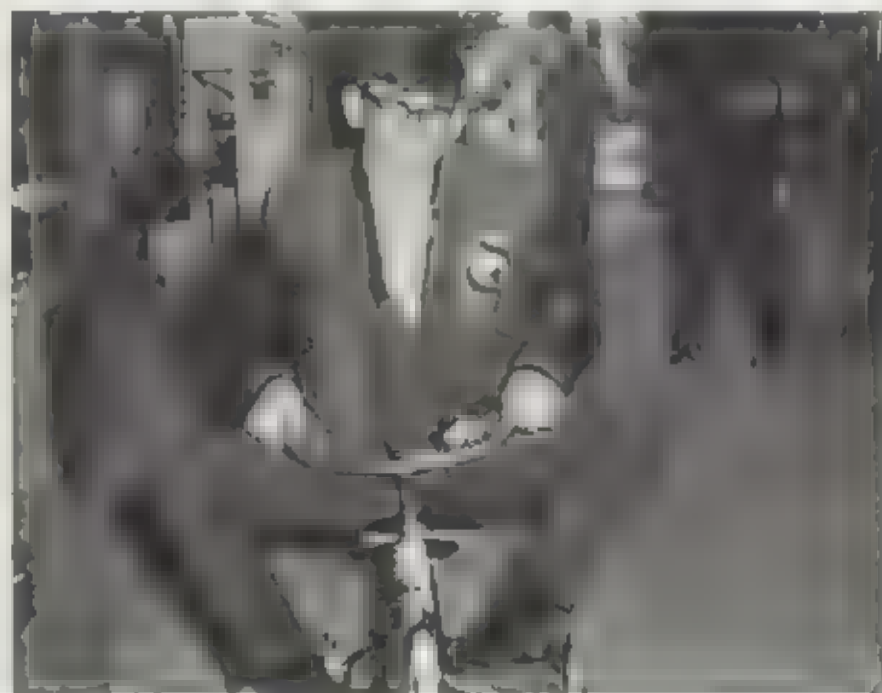

Dana Miller — Secretary

Laurie Wolfe — Treasurer

In addition to leading their class, this year's senior officers are also active in other areas of Highlander life. President, Gregg Kramer, is on the varsity football squad; Vice President, Diane Mattis, is varsity cheerleading captain; Secretary, Dana Miller, is a varsity majorette; and Treasurer, Laurie Wolfe, is Pep Club president and also in Concert Choir.

Faculty and Administration

The 1968 School Board

School Board members left to right Messrs. Middelkamp, Rehrlen, vice pres., Herman (president), Winkler, and Morris.

Mr. Raymond W. Harron
superintendent

Mr. Sweeder Heads Staff of 97

Bearing the brunt of the problems inherent in administering a high school the size of Oak Hills is its principal, Mr. Willard Sweeder.

Mr. Sweeder has been involved in the education of the students of this community for many years, serving as a math teacher at Bridgetown School after his graduation from Taylor High School and Dennison University. After World War II he returned to Bridgetown eventually to become its principal, in the meantime earning his Master's degree in school administration from the University of Cincinnati. From Bridgetown he came to Oak Hills to become its principal in the school year 1966 — 1967.

Mr. Scherer and Mr. Witsken Share Administrative Responsibilities

With special responsibility in the guidance of student council and student publications, as well as a less obvious role in textbook and curriculum planning, Mr. Richard Scherer (pictured right) is quite familiar to most Highlanders. Serving his third year as first assistant principal, Mr. Scherer holds B.A., B.S., and M Ed. degrees from the University of Cincinnati and has previously taught math courses here at Oak Hills

Attendance and discipline are two important factors in the smooth operation of a large modern high school and these are the weighty responsibility of the second assistant principal, Mr. Richard Witsken (pictured left). After earning his B.S. and M Ed. degrees from Xavier University, Mr. Witsken taught social studies at Oak Hills for several years, but returned as assistant principal last year only after serving in a similar capacity at Delhi School

Working behind the scenes to keep Oak Hills running smoothly are the three busy office secretaries, the cafeteria staff and the school nurse. Mrs. Melba Hicks, Mrs. Eryne Schubert, and Mrs. Kathryn Yaney co-ordinate the continual flow of information and the problems which arise in the course of the day at Oak Hills. Always poised and calm, they are familiar faces to every Highlander. The cafeteria staff serves a more specialized, but equally important function, planning and preparing the noon meal under the direction of Mr. Catherine Maisch. Staffing the school clinic is Mrs. Danna Clark a valuable asset to Oak Hills. Not pictured is the Custodial Staff headed by Mr. Leroy Gresham

Oak Hills Faculty for 1967-68

Ninety-two energetic and industrious teachers carry the greatest immediate responsibility for the education of the 1925 students at Oak Hills. In their classroom duties, as well as in advisory capacities in many school organizations, the Oak Hills faculty proves itself possessed of the creativity, vitality, and dedication necessary to meet the challenge of educating tomorrow's citizens.

This year sees the innovation of a department system with eight teachers assuming the role of department head. Mr. Eugene Wagner heads up the English Department, Mr. Irving Hellman the Social Studies Department, Mr. Paul Geiser the Math Department, Mrs. Elizabeth Day the Business Department, Mr. Bernard Southgate the Language Department, Mr. Eugene Poynter the Science Department, Mr. Norval Humphrey the Industrial Arts Department, and Mr. Louis Koenig the Art Department.

Class of 1969

The climax of class activities comes this year for the class of 1969 with the planning and production of the Junior-Senior Prom. During the football season, enthusiastic juniors man the concession stand, helping to build the operation as well as the treasury necessary for a magnificent Prom. This year's theme, "Camelot," calls for elaborate decorations and hard work.

Beyond class activities, juniors enter eagerly into school activities, beginning to assume the leadership which will fall to them as they become next year's senior class. From the varsity teams and cheerleaders to the last member of the cleaning section, juniors are a strong support for school spirit and all facets of school life.

Class of 1970

The class of 1970 carries through with the zeal and energy they have displayed in the past. This great spirit brings them many honors, beginning this year with a homecoming float Tippecanoe and the Redskins Too—second only to the seniors. The members of the sophomore class focus their attention on the 1968 Sweetheart Dance. The decorations, including the elaborate king and queen's platform, enlarge and complement the theme.

Achieving the status of sophomores, the class of '70 enters fully into the activities of Oak Hills. Individually they take part in clubs and teams. But not only do they participate, but are a valuable support with their attendance and cheers.

The class of 1970 adds much to the year 1967-68, contributing to the school spirit and achievement which will carry them through their high school career with great success.

Class of 1971

This year Oak Hills welcomes the class of '71. After the delay in the opening of school, this year's freshman class starts busily to work. Early in the year a candy sale is profitable, beginning freshman activities as a class, and foreshadowing the cooperation and enthusiasm they will need as they work together in the next four years.

In October, Freshmen work hard to build their homecoming float, and are a valuable asset cheering at football games and outdoor pep rallies, as well as supporting their own freshman teams.

The class of '71, already entering into school activities with interest and enthusiasm, shows promise for excellence in their four years at Oak Hills.
